WHAT OF THE WINTER?

The esteemed South Norwalk Sentinel is disposed to be skeptical with regard to The Post's severe winter prophecy, and says: "The official weather prophet of East Norwalk declares that the warm clearing up of recent fall storms means a mild winter. This weather predicting business is getting to be almost as confusing as the North pole controversy. On the basis of inclination, we'd rather believe East Norwalk's atmospherical sage."

On the basis of inclination, so would we. But what about the thick husks on the corn? And the heavy fur on the corn? and comes as orderly as a tramp that

The young man who drifts into "gay society" tells us that it is the only place where he finds interesting people—the only place in which he hears "How fare you?" which excites personal interest; and no one tries to tell why Vice seems to have a warmer heart and hand than Virtue.

The same indifferentism which makes from 20 to 40 per cent. of the voters neglect the town meetings and important elections—to pay little attention to the character or size of the appropriatons—to take no heed of public lisues which affect their interests in different ways, is the same which in different ways, is the same which makes the religious congregations

It is between the total anomal of the count Theft at Berkeley Divinity School.

A robbery at the Berkeley Divinity school was reported to the Middletown police Tuesday by Charles Stewart, a student in the school. He said that a large quantity of clothing was stolen from his room while he was at chapel exercises Monday afternoon. The police instituted a search at once, and soon found the stolen clothing wrapped up in a couch cover and hidden in the new parish house being built in the rear of the Church of the Holy Trinity near Berkeley school. Among the recovered articles were an overcoat, a raircoat, two suits and a sweater. No arrests have been made.
